SNAP Monthly Income Guidelines

October 1, 2021 through September 30, 2022

The federal poverty level increased on October 1, 2021, resulting in an increase to the income eligibility standards. Below is a comparison of last year's and this year's gross income limits. SNAP has two income levels: one for households without an older adult (someone age 60 or older) or someone with a disability (185 percent), and one for households with an older adult or someone with a disability (200 percent).

	October 2020- September 2021	NEW October 2021- September 2022	October 2020- September 2021	NEW October 2021- September 2022
Household size	Maximum monthly gross income (185%) (Households without an older adult or someone with a disability)		Maximum monthly gross income (200%) (Households with an older adult or someone with a disability)
1	$1,968	$1,987	$2,128	$2,148
2	$2,658	$2,686	$2,874	$2,904
3	$3,349	$3,386	$3,620	$3,660
4	$4,040	$4,087	$4,368	$4,418
5	$4,730	$4,786	$5,114	$5,174
6	$5,421	$5,485	$5,860	$5,930
Additional	Approx. $691	Approx. $701	Approx. $748	Approx. $756

In order to receive SNAP benefits, most households will also have to meet a net income test of 100 percent FPL. That income guideline also increased on October 1, 2021. Households with a member who is elderly or disabled may have higher gross incomes as long as they meet the net. Households of one or two people may be eligible by meeting the gross and not the net.
